(By Fred Hayes)

Down in the city of Coshocton they have a Twilight baseball league, and in that league there is one team that stands out like Ed Rommel on Connie Mack's hurling staff. This particular outfit is topping the inter-city circuit having trimmed its rivals with regularity and precision. In fact, so good and invincible had it gotten that in its latest league fray with a competing contingent, the opposition didn't get even the semblance of a run or a base hit.

But why all this chatter about Coshocton baseball. Well it's just this: Coshocton's league leaders, who bear the name of the Coshocton K. of P., came over Mt. Vernon way Saturday with the avowed intention of maltreating Mt. Vernon's fast stepping knights in much the same manner and acoustomness as they had their opponents back in the home town.

Did they? In reply it might be said, that it nothing worth having is easy to win, as some people with a philosophical turn of mind would have us believe, then the artistic walloping the home-clad knights handed the guests from the adjoining county was as devoid of worth as Columbus' chances in the Association pennant race.

If this isn't sufficiently clear it can further be said that the home hopes romped—no, raced—away with the game. 15 to 5, the scorers agreed was the verdict when the curtain was rung down.

Percussion Caps In Bats

If the two Coshocton moundmen, Lockwood and Gillen, who divided the hill assignment, didn't cultivate the acquaintance of the Mt. Vernon sluggers, then Sister isn't a ball player.

The Mount clubbing platoon are not going to have it said of them that they are frosts with the ash. Again, as has been the case in most of the home team contest this season, their hitting was much in evidence. Any time a team slams out 15 safe hits in 40 official times at bat, equivalent almost to a hit every other time at bat, they're going to break up the severity in the opposing ranks and make life near the unbearable point for the flingers of that nine. Such was devastating damage wrought by the surcharged bludgeons of the home athletes in Saturday's outing.

Not only was the Mt. Vernon batting heavy, but effective at opportune moments. Only once during the entire skirmish did hit propelled by a local swinger go for naught. That is, every successful hitter, with but the single exception, either eventually made the rounds and dented the plate with a run or helped a mate score by sending him across with a clean rap.

It was a great day for boosting batting averages. Every local pastimer with the exception of D. Porter, who supplanted Critchfield in the late innings and had only one chance with the stick, annexed one or more hits. Beeman was the rajah of the day with the willow, rapping out three singles and one double in four trips to the plate. Popejoy and Norrick lammed three knocks apiece to safety zones, while H. Jones, Mills, and Barry, all smite the horseshoe for a pair in the hit column. The remaining members of the home tribe contributed one rap each.

Never Had A Chance

Never throughout the proceedings of the blistering afternoon did Coshocton as much as threaten the local crew's lead. Unlike heavyweights signing up to meet Dempsey, the Mount athletes lost little time, but promptly set about in the very first round to give the other gang a trimming. Four Mt. Vernon men trod the registering disk in frame No. 1, and they duplicated this accomplishment in the succeeding inning.

Eight runs are generally enough to win for a ball team, Cleveland excepted, but the Pythians who pay their taxes in Mt. Vernon were not content with this number, so they kept up a sustained rally, scoring in every inning but one, the sixth.

It was only after the first two sessions, when Mt. Vernon was out in front with a comfortable lead, that Davy Jones allowed the opposition a run or a hit. By bunching the biggest portion of their hits in the third and fifth, materially aided by errors afield, the visitors managed to score their five counters.

Marvelous Catches Thrill Fans

The usual law abiding citizens, H. Jones and Norrick, turned highwaymen by robbing two Coshocton swatters of long hits. In the second inning Norrick made a great running one-hand clutch of a drive out in left along the first base alley. H. Jones' wonderful corral of a fly ball to the garden was a regular Speaker effort. The ball was hit far to his left, and from the stands it didn't look as if he had a chance to trap the sphere, but but dint of a great sprint Hee arrived just in time to pocket the sock.

Lockwood, who went from the slab to the centerfield post, made a nifty catch of H. Jones' lofty rocket in the fifth.

Three fast double plays executed by Mt. Vernon added to the interest of the frolic.

Mt. Vernon athletes took all kind of liberties on the lanes, purloining six bases. Critchfield, who calls Bangs his home, and insists that swiping bases isn't an obsolete art in baseball, was credited with two thefts.

HOEFELICH ATTACKED BY CARNIVAL MAN

In Serious Condition At Hospital; Artie Caldwell Is Under Arrest

Maynard Hoeflich, aged 19 years, Mt. Vernon, is in a serious condition at the Mt. Vernon Hospital the result of having been terribly beaten at the carnival grounds Saturday night.

Artie Caldwell, aged 27, whose home is said to be in Broadwell, Ohio, is under arrest at the Knox county jail charged with assault with intent to kill.

At 11:15 P. Saturday night a fight occurred at the carnival grounds and it is alleged that Caldwell beat Hoeflich with a black jack or a club of some kind. Caldwell was said to have operated the athletic show at the carnival.

Shortly after 11:15 Hoeflich was found unconscious behind a tent at the carnival grounds. Sheriff Lytle was called immediately. In the meantime Caldwell had made his escape from the grounds. It was said that he boarded a freight train for Gambier. Sheriff Lytle deputized Harley Tann and William Lyons who left on the freight train for Gambier. Tann and Lyons found Caldwell at the telegraph tower at Gambier and held the man until Sheriff Lytle arrived in an automobile. Caldwell was brought to Mt. Vernon and placed in the county jail.

Hoeflich's brother appeared before Squire George S. Harter and swore to an affidavit charging Caldwell with assault with intent to kill.

Hoeflich's condition is said to be serious. He was unconscious several hours after he had been removed to the hospital. Several teeth were knocked out and he has been vomiting blood. He is believed to be injured internally.

The arraignment of Caldwell on a charge with intent to kill will be delayed in Justice Harter's court until next Friday when it may be known what is to be the result of Hoeflich's injuries.

Monday he was reported to be complaining of pains in his back and to be vomiting blood. If Hoeflich should die a more serious charge will be placed against him, the officers intimated.

ROY FLETCHER HURT IN A COLLISION

Automobile Hits His Buggy
On Coshocton Ave. Saturday Evening

Roy Fletcher, living north of the city on the upper Fredericktown road, was severely injured at 8:30 Saturday evening when an automobile driven by Lou Jolley of Mt. Vernon struck his buggy on Coshocton avenue, near Division street. Fletcher's back was severely wrenched and he suffered severe body bruises. His buggy was damaged also the rear axle being bent.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were about to start for their home after having done their shopping in Mt. Vernon. They had stopped facing east on Coshocton avenue, west of Division street, alongside the city park.

Mr. Fletcher was in the buggy and Mrs. Fletcher was standing at the horse's head and about to get into the buggy also when Jolley, driving an automobile collided with the buggy. The latter was overturned throwing Mr. Fletcher out. The buggy fell on him. Endeavoring to get free from the vehicle the Jolley car struck the buggy a second time, it is said. When released Fletcher was able to get up and walked about for a few minutes when he collapsed. He was carried into the home of Mrs. Lucy Walker, No. 9 Coshocton avenue, where a physician was called to attend him.

Later in the evening Fletcher was taken to his home. His hurts are reported to be painful but not otherwise serious.

It is alleged that Jolley's car was running without lights. It was told that he claimed to have been blinded

BEEMAN GIVES BOND FOR HIS APPEARANCE

Waives Examination On Assault Charge Made By S. B. Yokam Before Justice

Late Sunday afternoon Edward Beeman was arraigned before Justice George S. Harter at his home on a charge of assault made by S. B. Yokam. The complaint was filed in the justice's court by Yokam late Saturday afternoon. Beeman waived examination and was held to common pleas court under $100 bond which was given.

It is alleged that the charge is the result of an assault made by Beeman on Yokam, who is one of the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad who refused to go out with the strikers. The assault, according to the affidavit, was made Friday, July 14, at the Pennsylvania railway station.
